The warnings, consultations and clinics give the driver an accurate, up-to-date understanding of his record, and, according to Hill, "can help avoid the very real hardship of losing a license."

The program also assigns credit points which can be used to offset demerit points. A non-crash free driver can earn a maximum of five credit points at the rate of one per year. He can also earn the maximum five points by successfully completing the clinic.

According to Richard E. Spring, DMV Driver Services Administrator, an estimated 75 percent of Virginia's 2.9 million drivers will receive credit points for conviction-free driving in 1975.

Under the new system, every driver is allowed to receive some demerit points before any action is taken.

For example, if a driver acquires six demerit points in one year or nine demerit points in two years, he receives an advisory letter. This letter is a warning, and no action is required. Further demerit point accumulation beyond the advisory letter stage may require attendance at group or personal interviews or participation in a clinic.

Based on driver programs Spring and his staff have studied in other states, he said the DMV expects to mail about 366,000 advisory letters to Virginia motorists next year.

Information on the Driver Improvement Program is available in a booklet, "A New Way of Keeping Score for Safe Driving," at local Division of Motor Vehicles offices.

School Board

Educational Program has 1,295 students enrolled in it and entering the program is being well accepted. Nine new vocational courses are being offered at six Appomattox County high schools during the current session.

In his report to the board on Appomattox County Canneries, Carter noted that the facilities in Appomattox were used to the greatest advantage and that the cannery in Pamplin set forward during the past year. More people than ever before had back-yard gardens and were using the services of the canneries more due to the high cost of foods in the markets.

Jerry Robinson, Athletic Director, presented the proposed athletic program and reviewed that in the event of a tie in any sport, it is the best possible athletic program to be offered for the students. He stated that he felt students should be involved in sports the entire 12 month period. In summing up the projected program, Robinson foresees in the next three years that six additional coaches would be needed to have nine new coaching assignments. To quote Coach Robinson, "We feel that in order to meet the needs of the students at Appomattox County High School, additional sports need to be offered to supplement the present program and to hold the interest of the student athlete."

Superintendent of Schools, Lloyd C. Bird, Jr., in a financial report to the board said the Appomattox County Schools are operating within the budget.

Participated In Regional Band Competition

The five members of the Appomattox County High School Band shown above tried out for All Regional Band Saturday, January 4, 1975. The group included Debbie Rusk, Donna Vultaro, Joe Fort, Jeff Smathers and Gordon Fort.

Many schools competed in this event, giving the five members very stiff competition.

Debbie Rusk playing alto sax made third chair Symphonic Band. Donna Vultaro made first alternate and Gordon Fort made second alternate, both playing the flute.

Not so many people made All Regional Band as last year, but the band has many excellent players who could make it in the years to come.

Heart-Healthy Resolutions Suggested For New Year

For residents of Appomattox who haven't made their New Year's resolutions yet, the Heart Association in Richmond has a suggestion: Resolve to reduce your risk of heart disease by taking better care of your heart.

Dr. Richard Wade, president of the Piedmont Heart Association, says the best way to begin is by getting a complete medical checkup. "Your doctor can tell whether you're a candidate for heart attack or stroke. And he can prescribe the preventive measure you and your family should take to reduce your risk."

An estimated 28 million American have some form of heart and blood vessel disease, the leading cause of death and disability in this country. They result in more than one million deaths every year.

"Many heart attack deaths could have been prevented," Dr. Wade said. "If the victims or their families had known and recognized the early warning signs of heart attack."

Dr. Wade listed the early signs of heart attack:

Frustrated, oppressive pain or tightness underneath the center of the chest.

Pain may radiate to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw.

Pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating.

Nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath may also occur.

Sometimes these symptoms subside and then return.

"Blood pressure is another important area that people and their doctors should resolve to watch," Dr. Wade said. "Some 23 million Americans have high blood pressure and half don't know it. The disease usually has no special symptoms. While it can usually be controlled, when left unchecked, it can lead to heart attack, stroke, heart or kidney failure.

"Your doctor can tell if you have high blood pressure by performing a simple test. By following his instructions and taking the prescribed medication, those with high blood pressure can reduce their risk of heart attack and stroke."

The Heart Association president cited other risk factors that can lead to heart attack and stroke. They include high blood cholesterol, cigarette smoking, a diet high in saturated fats and cholesterol, stress and a lack of exercise. He concluded:

"Living a heart-healthy life isn't a hard resolution to keep. All you have to do is made a few moderate changes in your lifestyle, such as having your blood pressure checked regularly, stop smoking cigarettes or at least cut down, eating foods low in saturated fats and cholesterol and getting regular daily exercise.

"As part of your new, heart-helping lifestyle," Dr. Wade continued, "resolve to make a generous contribution when a Heart Fund volunteer visits your home in February, designed as American Heart Month."

Puritan Pulpit

"Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe."... John 4:48

A craving after marvels was a symptom of the sickly state of men's minds in our Lord's day: they refused solid nourishment, and pined after mere wonder. The gospel which they so greatly needed they would not have; the miracles which Jesus did not always choose to give they eagerly demanded. Many today must see signs and wonders, or they will not believe. Some have said in their hearts, "I must feel deep horror of soul, or I never will believe in Jesus." But what if you never should feel it, as probably you never may? Will you go to hell out of spite against God, because He will not treat you like another?

One has said to himself, "If I had a dream, or if I could feel a sudden shock of I know not what, then I would believe." Thus you underserving mortals dream that my Lord is to be dictated to by you! ou are beggars at His gate, asking for mercy, and you must need seeds draw up rules and regulations as to how He shall give that mercy. Do you think He will submit to this? My Master is of a generous spirit, but He has a right royal heart, He spurns all dictation, and maintains His sovereignty of action. Why, dear reader, if such be your case, do you crave for signs and wonders? Is not the gospel its own sign and wonder? Is not this a miracle of miracles, that "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believes in Him might not perish"? Surely that precious word, "whosoever will, let him come and take the water of life freely," and that solemn promise, "Him that come unto me, I will in no wise cast out," are better than signs and wonders! A truthful Savior ought to be believed. He is truth itself. Why will you ask proof of the veracity of one who cannot lie? The devils themselves declared Him to be the Son of God; will you mistrust Him?

Modernistic Club News

A very fine number turned out Sunday at 10 a.m. for regular Sunday School at Galilee Baptist Church. The Sunday School Supt. J. A. Watson, teachers and students were present and on time, even though the weather was somewhat inclement. The lesson, "The Suffering Savior" was well explained to the classes. Helpful information was gained through reading and discussion. The offering for the morning was generous.

Some plans are in the making for the year 1975. As soon as the plans are finished the school will begin work on them.

The church has set Sunday, January 19th, for a Weight Rally. Immedately following the morning worship. We trust that each member and friend will keep the rally in mind, and be sure to bring your weight, and all over your weight possible.

Some work is being done on the church, and we want to be ready to pay off the indebtness as soon as possible. Sunday, Jan. 19 is known as "Weight Rally Day" at Galilee Baptist, after the morning service hour. Come one, come all and help us out.

Very happy to know that "Sis" Nannie Wright has undergone a successful operation in Lynchburg General Hospital. We trust that "Sis" Wright may continue to improve as well as "Sis" Theda Harris. We hope for Bro. Tibbs a speedy recovery.

A very impressive New Year's Service was held at First Baptist Church Sunday, Jan. 12th, at the 11 a.m. service hour. The Rev. Mr. Davis rendered a wonderful message from the theme - "If loving you is wrong I don't want to be right." In the srmon, Rev. Davis explained very clearly the difference between physical and spiritual love. Rev. Davis stated that spiritual love was everlasting, but love from the physical side of life, leads to death and destruction. The pastor compared love to a garden, in order for love to grow one has to cultivate it. The message was timely and helpful.

Following the morning worship, Holy Communion was served. The music was very lovely, under the direction of the minister of music, Mrs. Harriet P. James. Both the Senior and Junior Choirs combined, sang for the service.

The offering for the morning was quite liberal.
